CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

Having for the second time satisfied myself of the superior excellence of your Cherry Pectoral, I shall not hesitate to recommend it to my friends as the best remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping-Cough, Croup, Asthma, and Consumption, with which I am acquainted.

From the distinguished Professor of Chemistry and Materia Medica Bowdoin College.

Dear Sir: I rejoiced among the recent gifts you placed at my disposal, to find a bottle of your Cherry Pectoral. It is in my own family or in the family of my friends.

You have my whole heart in the degree of its admiration, ever since born of adversity. I have found it a never-failing remedy for the various and ominous diseases.

PARKE LAWLLAND, M. D.

Brunswick, Me., Feb. 5, 18.

From an Overseer in the Hamilton Mills, in Lowell.

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 18, 1850.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: I have been so well satisfied with what I have taken of your Cherry Pectoral for the cure of a severe cough, which I have had for a long time, that I am willing to bear my testimony to its excellent qualities.

Yours, respectfully, J. EMERSON

Sewing by Machinery.

To Journeymen Tailors, Shoemakers, Employers, and all others interested in Sewing of any description.

SEWING at one fifth the usual price! Machines for Sewing, but three were exhibited at the late Fair of the Mechanics' Institute, all of which were pronounced failures. Any objections against the use of Machines for Sewing, will be considered and explained to your advantage or profit.

SINGER & HELPS' Celebrated Sewing Machine, invented by Isaac M. Singer and manufactured by Singer & Phelps, No. 323 Harrison Place, Boston. Machine is offered to the public on a principle which says I will be contented and willing to perform any kind of work, from the finest Cambric shirt bosom to coat, pants, vest, or the heaviest description of leather. Upon which I will warrant perfect satisfaction, and will be responsible for the same. Particularly upon the principle of the chain stitch affording room and elasticity in the fabric in any way—and the stitch can be ripped to any length or taken out with a single pull.

The machine made by this machine is admitted by all who have seen it, to be the most beautiful and perfect stitch ever invented. It cannot be taken apart by cutting a single piece of thread, but will not travel or open, should the sewing even be cut in 500 to 1,000 places; does not ravel the fabric operated upon, after it is taken from the machine.

The above machine is constructed in the most substantial manner, and will last many years. In its construction, it is simple, durable and not liable to get out of order. Any person can learn to operate it in a few hours, and will become a perfect operator in a few days. Any machine not proving as above recommended, may be returned within ten days from the time of purchase, and the money will be refunded.

The machine will execute every description of sewing, from the finest cambric to the coarsest description of leather, and will turn over a seam as well as any machine ever invented. Any person wishing to purchase a machine, can see it in operation at the office of the subscriber, where a machine will be kept constantly for sale, and where all orders will be promptly attended to. Machines will be sent to any part of the United States, packed in the most secure manner, and forwarded with the least possible delay. Letters must be post paid, and addressed to SINGER & HELPS, 19 Harvard Place, Boston, Mass.

Coughs, Colds, Consumptions,

AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE LUNGS,

THE VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM has long been in use, and during the last twenty years it has received the highest reputation for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and all diseases of the Lungs. That it is the best preparation for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and all diseases of the Lungs, is evident from the immense sales, and the many certificates of its wonderful cures which are constantly coming to hand. Sales—Messrs. Reed & Cutler are also quickly recommending it to their customers, which is a sure evidence of its merit. Having a very pleasant taste, gives us real pleasure to offer the following and great variety of our recommendations on a medicine we know to be of real merit.

An eminent physician writes us—I have for some time past been in the habit of prescribing the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam for consumption, and pleurisy, spitting of blood and complaints of the throat and lungs, and with the most unqualified success. I therefore recommend it as superior to any other preparation for the above complaints.

Nov. 1, 1850.—Mr. Gentlemen: In almost any extensive practice in which I have been engaged, I have had occasion to prescribe the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam for consumption, coughs, colds, &c., and have found it a very valuable remedy. I have also used it in my own family, and have found it to be a very valuable remedy. I have also used it in my own family, and have found it to be a very valuable remedy.

HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

THIS article has been before the public nearly five years, and the proprietors feel encouraged to say that for RESTORING DANDRUFF from the scalp, RESTORING HAIR WHERE IT FALLS OFF TEMPORARILY, and giving it a BEAUTIFUL SOFTNESS AND GLOSS CANNOT BE EXCELLED. The use of this latter valuable vegetable Oil extracted from a plant found growing luxuriantly in the Western States and which possesses in a remarkable degree the essential properties of

REPRODUCING AND BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR,

by acting upon and reviving the glands or roots. Those who fail to try a single bottle of this preservative will be surprised at finding how silk like and glossy it renders the hair, while people who have used it for half or the most agreeable sensations. It has already been extensively used and in every instance has given perfect satisfaction.

REASONS FOR USING THIS PRESERVATIVE.

1 It is a very pretty, clean and delicate and has an agreeable perfume.

2 It is put up in a very convenient form, and at a very reasonable price.

3 As it is not an opiate, it affords relief to the Head at once.

4 It gives to hard, brashy Hair a desirable moisture and softness.

5 It prevents the hair falling off, and the Head becoming bald.

6 It is highly necessary to the full growth of the Hair, when the cause has not been of long standing.

7 It keeps the Hair in its place, and does away the disagreeable practice of combing and brushing so frequently.

8 It is indispensable to those in this day of cleanliness, who wish to be free from the vermin that infest the Head.

THE PILES!

A CURE FOR PILES SECURED

DR. UPHAM'S INTERNAL REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF PILES!

THE VEGETABLE PILE SPECIFIC invented by Dr. A. Upham, a distinguished physician of New York, is the only fully successful remedy for that long and obstinate complaint the Piles ever offered to the American people.

The Electuary or Pile Specific, as it is called, has been used by many hundreds of persons in this city, and in every instance has given perfect satisfaction. Many of the most respectable citizens of Bangor have used it, and will testify to its efficacy. Dr. Upham's Pile Specific is a vegetable preparation, and contains no mercury or anything injurious to the constitution, and may be taken according to the directions accompanying each box.

Another certificate of the efficacy of Dr. Upham's Pile Specific.

Messrs. Wyatt & Co.—Gents: I feel it a duty I owe to suffering humanity, to inform you of the wonderful effects I have experienced from the use of Dr. Upham's Vegetable Pile Specific. I was afflicted with the Piles for many years, and could find no relief from any thing I took, or any thing I applied, until I was induced to try Dr. Upham's Pile Specific. I purchased a box of you, and after using it according to the directions, I found relief, and in a short time was entirely cured. I have since used it in my family, and have found it to be a sure remedy for the Piles. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and shall continue to do so, as I consider it a valuable medicine. Yours, respectfully, JOHN BOYD.

Temperance.

Under this familiar head we have in few words to say, because the subject is one of interest, and because the ravages of intemperance are frequently and startlingly seen in our community bringing poverty, disgrace, diseases and death. In discussions of this subject, the friends of temperance are frequently met with the objection, in reference to any particular branch of the enterprise, that it is not the way. It is not as comprehensive and far reaching as the evil and does not possess the power to effect a radical and entire cure. It is a good objection urged against that branch of the temperance organization known as the Sons of Temperance. Well, we begin at the beginning by an acknowledgment that we know it is not the way to take the mighty load off the backs of humanity and by one mighty effort cure it and forever banish intemperance from the world. As yet we are entirely unacquainted with any such way. But it is always in well to restrain and reform and thus to lessen the evil, any abatement of which is a blessing.

They propose to do this by associating men together upon a few special objects of thought, effort and interest, and among these are the abstinence from the use and sale of intoxicating drinks a moderate insurance against the liabilities of sickness, and the payment of burial expenses at one's death. It is found that associations with these objects, by presenting to the mind a variety of worthy motives, may be sustained and accomplish much good. The doors are sufficiently wide to admit the mass of the community to a participation of its benefits, so that none need complain of exclusiveness in its operations and even if any Division should become exclusive in the admission of members other Divisions could be formed to the extent of the entire walks of the community.

By associating men on special subjects, they become better acquainted with each other and with their subjects they become free from the many hurtful prejudices likely to get a lodgment in the mind they are better prepared to exercise their judgments and to express their opinions, and at the same time to feel a firmer self-reliance. Each separate associate on becomes a fraternal family in which a feeling of brotherly kindness is engendered, and correct estimates of each become the common property of all. Out of the element of association there becomes formed a more entire and reliable personal character. Thus men are better prepared to think and to act for themselves as well as better able to judge correctly of their fellow men. These and similar associations for self and mutual benefit, are the steps leading to a higher social and mental and moral state. They are the scaffoldings thrown up around humanity in order to its being built up and perfected. When man is what he ought to be—when his God given powers are all unfolded and developed, and his mind shall reflect the Divine wisdom and his heart reflects the Divine love, as the drop of dew reflects the light of the distant star, and he all delight in the exercise of Christian charity, and so far as there is made a receptacle of truth and love he shall be the medium of these to others, then, then we may dispense with association and with temperance laws, too, for then the temple of humanity will be completed and the scaffolding may be removed. Man has then reached a plane so high as no longer to need such influences.

By the aid of these elements the Sons of Temperance intend to advance the cause of temperance in the community. They require a personal pledge to total abstinence on the honor of a man of all whom they admit to their order. They open their door to all in health who have manliness sufficient to make this pledge, they greet those who have left the intoxicating cup, with a "welcome, brother" and they watch with a brother's solicitude. His successes and his slips. If he falls, they are with him to help him up and to inspire him with new hopes for a renewal of his pledge. In sickness they are bound to be with him and to minister to his wants, and they thus offer the best compensation, when most needed, to all men to become members of their order.

We shall reserve to a future occasion the employment of statistics showing what associations have performed and are capable of performing, intending in this article only to take up the general subject.

We wish to urge the question whether it can be supposed possible that one hundred and fifty Divisions of the Sons of Temperance can be all existing in Maine, numbering nearly nine thousand members of the active young men of the State and holding frequent and regular meetings, distributing publications of temperance employing agents to lecture in different parts of the State, holding frequent State and district conventions, and yet without influence in the community at large? Without influence? Why, in our own city, and in many other places in Maine the Order may show living examples of its power of restraint and reform—the two great elements in the cause. Men are to be seen who have been "born again" as to their every condition in life and thereby families have been made comfortable, and thanks have ascended to God from many hearts for deliverance from the bondage of intemperance.

But intemperance is a public vice and has not yet been cured. True too solemnly and awfully true. But what and where would the community be now without the constant, kindly and often silent influence of the Sons of Temperance? Engulphed, perhaps, in the sea of indiscriminate rum, and whirling its hands in the drunken hurrah on the brink of eternity.

The organization and efforts of the Sons of Temperance, be they more or less, do not necessarily retard the operations of others. If any man has discovered a more excellent way of promoting temperance, in Heaven's name let him try it. There is room enough for all, and we have no disposition to jostle. If there is any field unoccupied—and there are many and great ones—go in: put the machinery at work, and from the throne should be consolidated.

But what and how and those who have not connected themselves with the Sons of Temperance, doing to advance the cause? What, How? Give us the answer! Do we hear it? Nothing? We must refer to this answer on another occasion.

We understand that the Citizens' Brass Band are re organized and added a few members to its numbers, and engaged Mr. A. W. Fisher whose musical acquirements are well known to our citizens, as leader and director. The Band heretofore has not met with a proper encouragement but notwithstanding its present members are determined to go ahead. We learn that E. G. White, an Italian Boston is at present employed in manufacturing for them in his best style a Silver Bugle which will be received about the first of March when they will make a public presentation of it to the leader. We sincerely hope that they will meet with all the encouragement their perseverance and energy deserve.

Can Do as Reason?

If we could guess aright, a stranger dog scratched at an apothecary shop in this city and was let in. He admitted. He soon placed his paw upon the knee of one of the young men in the shop and looked pitifully and earnestly into his face. Attention was attracted by his manner, and at length a prescription was found thrust into the dog's mouth. This was removed together with several others found about the dog. The dog at all maintained his position, and on the prescription's being opened the space of an hour before it was found to be filled with studied with the quills. These were removed since which time the dog seems inclined to remain in the company of his attentive and skilful friends. That was a stranger dog and unknown to any one in the premises. How can this conduct be accounted for?

Slaves Used and Shown Barns.—It is reported that the convict Nies had bribed one of the officials to bring Sing Sing Prison to furnish him with knowledge, which he was caught in the act of offering. He was placed in the shop of Dutch, and ordered after which the gate was hoisted, letting a flood of water on his head and completely drenching him. This mode of punishment has not long been in existence, and is said to be one of the most sure methods of enforcing obedience from refractory convicts ever invented.

The Oregon Spectator assures us that in that territory, Johnson over thinks of any subject as electing the person. If this be so, it will regard only about one-half the persons to support papers, that they require in the States. No class of mechanics work so hard for their money, and none less as much of it as editors, printers. We are glad Oregon is an exception to so general a rule.

The Remarkable and the Tariff.—The Hopkinsville of Williamsburgh, who's business is suffering severely from the unfair and ruinous competition created by the present Tariff which favors the foreign manufacturer of Hemp Yarn, Cordage &c., a decided advantage in our markets over their American competitors, has dipped recently among others, the following:

Resolved, That the present Tariff enacts a ruinous injustice in placing a duty of 20 per cent on Hemp Yarn and 30 per cent on Cordage while the duty on the raw material remains at 20 per cent, and though it was established in part by inadvertence, yet a failure by the present Congress to remove this evil renders them justly chargeable with the evil itself.

A Half Century or a History of Changes that have take place and events that have transpired within the United States between 1800 and 1850. With an introductory by Hon. Rufus D. D. By Emerson David D. D. Boston: Tappan & Whittemore. 1851.

This historical work has been one of occurrence and progress to the human race and particularly to the people of the United States. It was not to be expected that within the limits of a fair sized volume all the great discoveries, changes, discussions and improvements of society, which have transpired in fifty years, could be mentioned and told them. If they could what a book would be! What a treasure of wisdom it would contain! It is could not be expected. So we recommend when we referred to the merits of newspapers and to the schools. But there were not to speak ally in the line of the author and are more briefly treated of than other subjects of more interest and importance.

The reader will find in these pages a great many facts going to show a course of progress not only in the sciences and arts, but in the moral educational and religious aspects of the whole people. More clearly than we did and act with more directness and effect.

The geography of the subjects in the following order: Political changes and events; Educational changes; Charitable; Educational Institutions; Moral Reformation; Improvements in the means of communication; Progress of Science Inventions Arts and Manufactures, Curious Benevolence, Religious Controversies, New Religious Sects, Miscellaneous and Deaths.

Under these several heads the author has spotted up the life journal of the past half century and given us a standard, comprehensive general view of the actual results, together with many of the historical steps. It is a book to which all will enjoy a frequent reference, and in which if they find some of their favorite matters appearing rather short they will find other matters treated in such a way as to throw new light upon them.

This book may be found at E. F. Duren & Co's bookstore.

"Invasion" of the Sandwich Islands.—The latest advices from Honolulu state that considerable excitement existed there in consequence of information having come to hand from sources of undoubted credit, to the effect that the Sandwich Islands were about to be threatened with the invasion of an armed force of ruffians from the shores of California. Meetings had been held at Honolulu to adopt measures of defence, and a committee of safety was appointed to take such measures as the exigency might demand. We have seen no intimations of a movement of this kind elsewhere than in the Polynesian. The character and numbers of the supposed invaders—if an invasion there is to be—is probably exaggerated. On the report that the Sandwich Islands are to be overrun they be only employed as a decoy for a descent upon the Mexican province of Lower California. At all events, there seems to be something in the wind.

Gold-Bearing Quartz.—The vicinity of Carson's Creek, even as early as the autumn of 1848, was thought by Walter Colton, whose mining operations we believe were mostly confined to that vicinity to be rich in gold bearing quartz. The "blow-holes" of the fire king of the existence of which the miners then thought or fancied, they found the proof, has since actually been found.

The gold of the debris, is but the gleanings of the rich harvest to be found in the dykes of quartz which traverse the beds of plutonic rocks. The process of abrasion has been going on for ovelos of ages and yet how small a part of the mighty mass of mountains has been worn down! The shingle of the "bars" is but a drop in the bucket, compared with the vast heights of bristling cliffs above it.

The specific gravity of quartz is such, that a magnet must always be sought for beneath that of less weighty materials. In it the gold finds a matrix, because it is the heaviest of known substances, always excepting platinum which also frequently found associated with it. What stores of precious metals must rest deep in the unknown depths of our planet! What a mere sprinkling of this can we ever reach, faint and scattered, like the bright glories of the light of heaven refulgent through the portals of starlight.

Mining operations we are convinced, are hereafter mainly to be confined to the quartz. Heavy machinery is required and no other is worth employing. Quartz is the hardest of the minerals and is the adamant of the ancients to all liquids. We were yesterday shown some splendid specimens from the auriferous vein on Carson's Creek, and now in possession of Professor James Nooney, who is acting as the agent in this city for the proprietors. Pieces may be seen at 180 Montgomery street at the office of Gregory's Express.—[Pacific News.

Gold at Grass Valley.—We have heretofore alluded to the extensive diggings found in the vicinity of Nevada and Grass Valley, where the gold is scattered promiscuously through the earth, as well as found in beds along the channels of ravines. By recent information we learn that discoveries have been made at Grass Valley of an immense vein of quartz, which being gold so richly that good wages have been made by men with a common hammer, who broke up the rock and picked out the gold in lumps varying in value from a bit to one dollar.

The quartz beats gold so richly that many miners have deserted old claims and located new ones on the vein. We have seen several specimens which are quite rich, though we are assured they are rather poor specimens of the vein. Not having any means of testing their value, we are unable to give the per cent but should think the specimens exhibited to us about four times as rich as quartz which is worked in the North Carolina Mines, and considered rich. The whole vein is already staked off in claims of not over ten feet square, and many are calculating their rides out of these claims, in the course of the winter.—[California Star.

A Manufacturer of Animals.

In our late visit to the city I witnessed an exhibition showing a degree of ingenuity, genius and perfectly novel artistic skill which surprised and delighted me. In a glass case by the door as you enter it took at first sight to be a huge, grotesque doll, made of an enormous lump of tow, with a wicked look about it, as if it were something to frighten children with. But on closer inspection it proved to be a most perfect and beautiful specimen of the genus Felis, commonly known as the cat. Every hair was there, from the long, white, silky fur of the throat to the short, dark, velvety fur of the nose. The eyes were of glass, and had a most natural look, and the ears were lined with pink silk. The whole was mounted on a pedestal, and was a most perfect piece of taxidermy. The artist was present, and I was introduced to him. He is a Mr. Ward, and has a room in the Museum building, in Broadway, where he has a number of animals in various stages of preparation. He has been engaged in the business for about two years, and has already attained a degree of perfection which is truly astonishing. He has a number of orders for animals, and is constantly employed. He has a fine specimen of a lion, a striped tiger, and a leopard. "Ah," said the artist, "these are my principal. I make my living out of trumpery dogs and cats and children's pets of late, but these are the works to which I have devoted all the time and study in which I have settled all the pride of my life."

I was astonished. What I had taken for the natural ones of the animals were entirely glass—every claw, hair in the lion's mane being as delicate thread of the brittle material and every color and tint in the tiger's striped hide, a separately spun peculiar correspondingly hued glass. Here, no doubt were the orders of great labor, of most patient and delicate handiwork. But the art of the exhibition was shown in the skeleton and fidelity with which nature had been imitated in the whole aspect and bearing of the animal in the fine swell of the muscles—the attitude and cord like tenseness of the legs and above all, in the fierce and life like expression imparted to the great round heads, that of the lion in particular flaming upwards from the tangled manes of shaggy hair.

The artist looked upon his works with paternal pride. "I am the only man in Europe, he said, who could make the like. He added he had been sent to the ex-king of the French, who had purchased several smaller animals made in the style of those I saw. I expressed the hope that I should encounter the lion next summer in the London Exhibition. "No," the man replied, he had shown all his collection to all that great English lords when they were in Paris but they were stiff and cold, and the reception they had given him discouraged him from thinking of sending any specimens of his skill to London." It is hoped that Mr. Lambertz—such is the artist's name—will change his mind in this respect. The lion cost him five years of labor. He estimated its value at 30,000 francs, while he valued the tiger and leopard as worth 15,000 francs each.—[Special Correspondent of the London Morning Chronicle.

Frost at Sacramento.—We understand that on Tuesday night the entire region round about Sacramento was covered with a white frost. Tuesday morning, in our own city, was one of the coldest we have ever experienced here. Were overcoats were decidedly comfortable.—[Pacific News, Dec. 15th.

Fire in Norridgewock.—The store occupied by Mr. E. C. Selden, at Norridgewock, took fire and was partially consumed, on Friday last.—Damage to goods estimated at from $1000 to $1500. Insured for $1500 in the Mammoth Company. Damage to store was comparatively trifling.—[Somerset Peoplo's Press.

Massachusetts Senator for Short Term.

The House elects a U. S. Senator for the short term to morrow. Cushing, Stetson and Ogden, of the anti contents, have declared their intention to vote for Rantoul, and he will probably be elected.

Rhode Island Senator.

Four ballotings to-day by the Legislature of Rhode Island for U. S. Senator, without success. The candidates are Whipple, Simmons and Cranston, whigs, and James, democrat.

CONGRESS.

Washington, Jan 28

In the Senate Mr. Clay presented two petitions from Pennsylvania complaining of the operation of the fugitive slave law of 1850.

Mr. Hamlin presented two petitions from Maine for the repeal of the Fugitive Slave Law, laid upon the table.

Mr. Gwinn offered a resolution calling for the correspondence between the United States and British authorities relative to the seizure of a vessel at Astoria, Oregon. Adopted.

Mr. Badger, of the Naval Committee reported a bill to enforce discipline and to promote good conduct and order in the Navy.

The California Land Bill was then taken up, and after a debate in which Mr. Benton referred with considerable severity to the Senator from Georgia and to the bill, the bill was adjourned.

The House resumed the consideration of the pending motion to refer to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union the bill reported by Mr. Johnson of Tennessee proposing to give to every head of family one hundred and sixty acres of public domain on condition that he will improve and occupy the same for a certain period.

Mr. Vinton moved to lay the bill on the table. Yeas 78 Nays 90. The House by a vote of 81, refused a second demand for the previous question which would have brought the House to a direct vote on the bill. It was referred to the Committee of the Whole, Yeas 121, Nays 64.

AN AUTUMN SONG.

The Spring is gone and Summer hush
The Fall is passing with a blush,
But we look over cold and snow,
Until next time the roses blow.

Some think of Autumn all to Spring,
Because the Winter is hastening,
But we look over cold and snow,
Until next time the roses blow.

The Spring is always just ahead
And nearest when the leaves are dead.
So we'll look over cold and snow,
And make a spring in Winter blow.

In yonder tree I see a bird;
Her Robin note is gladly heard—
She's like a bud upon the oak,
Both thinking of the Winter broke.

The leaves are rumbled from their stems,
By buds that take the place of them
To see sprinkled off to play, date
The others full of Spring juice.

The Robin sings her Autumn lay,
But soon her voice will die away—
One note then flitters forward sing
Till Sin and Robin gird the Spring.

☞ Customers are invited to call and see for themselves.

LADIES' LASTING.

I HAVE now received a most convenient article to take and retain the gloss, the use of which celebrated HARDEN'S HAIR DYE renders indispensable to all who desire a beautiful head of hair. It is in advance of all other preparations for the hair, and is unequalled by any now in use as the proprietor can prove by testimonials almost without number from the very first citizens of Bangor. THE CHEAPEST NEWSPAPER IN THE WORLD!

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1851.

☞ Now is the time to Subscribe. ☜ is issued every morning, except Sunday (on which occasion a double sheet is published), containing eight pages of six columns each, or about the size of two average Country Newspapers. About six of these pages are filled every morning, the remainder of Editorials, News and Miscellanies being greater than of any other paper in America, and greater than any but one or two in Europe, though the price is but half that of other first class Dailies in this Country, and less than one fourth the cost of similar Journals in England. Two Evening Editions are issued to supply such subscribers with the latest news up to the hour when the city mails be mailed.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE

The Tribune is edited in chief by Horace Greeley, who is respected in charge of all matters pertaining to the Political and Financial Department of our own Country—its Foreign (Old World) Department is in charge of CHARLES A. DANA, assisted by able correspondents in London, Paris, Constantinople, &c., &c. Its Commercial Intelligence and City Department are in charge of Bayard Taylor, assisted by an efficient corps of Reporters. No exertion or outlay is needed to render its news from all quarters, by Telegraph, Express, Steamships and Mails, as early and reliable as that of any other paper. Price $5 a year, in advance, three months, $1.25.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Contains nearly all the non-advertising matter of the Daily, except such as is of local interest, or has been superseded by following and more exact accounts, down to the Semi-Weekly is issued. It is of the same size with the Daily (without the few advertisements). Price $3 a year, in advance; or three copies for $7, or seven for $20.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

is issued every Thursday morning, and contains most of the matter of the Daily, with more extensive accounts of such events and proceedings as cannot be published in full. Two years old and Weekly, and Language like Irving's Knickerbocker and faithful account of western life. Thoreau's Dwellers in Walden or Life in the Woods, and Thinking, and hints for Improving.

The Tribune is not yet quite ten years old, and has attained an aggregate circulation of over five thousand copies—about two thirds of them Daily. Weekly. Every subscription is paid in advance, so that the paper stops when the advance pay runs out, so that no one can be kept in debt to it by neglect to order its discontinuance. Every dollar received from all parts of the Union, is thereby accredited to the Subscriber who sends it.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS TO CLUBS

3 Copies, for one year, $5.00
8 Copies for one year, 10 00
20 Copies forwarded to one address, 20 00

Subscriptions from individuals in clubs are received at the club rates.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The New York Times, The Providence (R. I.) Morning Mirror says: We think no public person will fail to recognize in the Tribune (from Hannegan's American Journal) the following, from the Boston Post:

"At the head and front of the Journals of New York we do not object to its revolutionary title to the New York Tribune. It is ably conducted, perhaps, as to the editorial section, but we do not like it. The Tribune is so important that it has a large circulation, which is one of the least discriminate classes of society in the country, and which will not acknowledge its influence. Whatever may be its character in other grounds and opposed to the principles it has always been advocated by the great public, not publicly by its friends—but yet as historians say, the times have hitherto proved, for the most part, to the grounds and views taken by the Tribune. It has shown itself to be a remarkable judgment and discretion in the management of sentiments and doctrines may sometimes, to a casual observer, appear as dangerous and visionary, they are rarely at last found to be such, and are slightly above the general truth of things.

"Among the chief characteristics of the Tribune we may mention, principally, power, honesty, fearlessness, and, as an economic sense.

"The political articles of the Tribune are marked by good sense, strength of conviction, transparency and boldness of style. Its literary criticisms are generally just and in a spirit of kindness. Its commercial articles are full of information, and are considered reliable as that of any other paper. Price $5 a year, in advance, three months, $1.25.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Contains nearly all the non-advertising matter of the Daily, except such as is of local interest, or has been superseded by following and more exact accounts, down to the Semi-Weekly is issued. It is of the same size with the Daily (without the few advertisements). Price $3 a year, in advance; or three copies for $7, or seven for $20.

DR. GAY'S

Blood Purifier.

THE intelligent portion of the community have long since learned that the best remedy for the cure of Scrofula Humors and Diseases of the Blood is that which will most effectually and speedily remove the cause from the system and leave the blood pure and healthy

Humors and Diseases of the skin are but the symptoms of disorder in the blood and can never be cured while the blood remains impure

SCROFULA,

The deadly disease by which consumption is generated is in the blood and can only be cured by purifying the blood

This compound will eradicate every vestige of disease from the blood and restore the system to perfect health

Blood is the Life of man and all diseases of the blood without exception can be cured by this remedy

Fountain of Life

It is unnecessary to mention that the HAYDEN BLOOD PURIFIER can truly vouch for its virtues as it is daily curing the worst cases of disease that can be named

No Compound

has ever been offered to the public which can compare with it as a safe and effectual remedy for the cure of all diseases originating in impure blood

Mercurial Affections.

Diseases caused by the improper use of Mercury are effectually cured by the use of the BLOOD PURIFIER It is also a sure cure for Rheumatism Kidney Complaints Weakness Loss of Appetite &c &c are not only removed by using our Purifier but the cause of the disease is removed from the system and every person who uses it will find the pimples disappear and the skin become clear and healthy

Pimples on the Face

CONSUMPTION

The first and most fatal symptoms of consumption are a cough or pain in the side or breast Now the BLOOD PURIFIER is a powerful remedy for the cure of all diseases of the Throat and Lungs and will cure the most confirmed case of Consumption if taken in season

Muscular Strength

is restored and health established by the use of the BLOOD PURIFIER Let no one neglect to use it because he has used other medicines without benefit The BLOOD PURIFIER is entirely different from all other preparations and will cure when all others fail

Children of a Scrofulous Habit, and those whose parents have died of consumption or any of the diseases arising from impure blood should use the BLOOD PURIFIER and thereby secure themselves from the fatal consequences resulting from impure blood and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs — Dr GAY'S BLOOD PURIFIER has a wonderful influence upon these complaints and will cure when all other remedies fail

BRONCHITIS

If you would avoid Consumption use Dr GAY'S BLOOD PURIFIER and be cured

Chronic Complaints

which baffle the skill of physicians for years are cured by the use of the BLOOD PURIFIER Let no one neglect to use Dr GAY'S BLOOD PURIFIER if they would be cured
